

IE School Visit: Lok Sin Tong Cheung Yip Mou Ching Kindergarten

I am pleased to inform you that with the support of Lok Sin Tong Cheung Yip Mou Ching Kindergarten which had implemented IE since 2010, IAIE(HK) is able to organize the visit to exchange ideas about implementation of IE with details as below. Your school is cordially invited to participate and we would be grateful if you could fax in your nomination by 27 MARCH 2015 for enrollment.

1. A brief introduction of Lok Sin Tong Cheung Yip Mou Ching Kindergarten

Lok Sin Tong Cheung Yip Mou Ching Kindergarten cherishes the all-round development of children and its mission is to create a sociable place for the children in their early years with the pedagogical skills of its staff. In 2010, we learned about Invitational Education (IE) and the concept was introduced in our school in 2013. We have discovered that the different strategies of IE will effectively encourage the creativity and enthusiasm of the students. The inviting culture has a great impact on the physical, intellectual, spiritual and aesthetic developments. Also, students start taking a positive role in caring for the social aspects of community service, thus benefiting their personal growth.

IE has proposed the 5Ps: Places, People, Policies, Programs and Processes. We have “intentionally” arranged inviting environment to nurture students’ growth and potential. This benefits not only students, but also every stakeholder related to the kindergarten. With respect, trust and optimism, the kindergarten builds a healthy and cooperative team.

2. Main theme of the sharing : IE at school

William Purkey believes that everyone is able, valuable and responsible. Our school has created a positive learning environment. It is including all stakeholders. We have designed different events to enhance teaching and learning processes. School has constructed a new regulatory policy and procedure direction to facilitate the implementation of IE. With the concept of fairness, concern and respect, positive behavior produces positive results.

The campus is full of concern, respect, trust and optimistic atmosphere. We will continue to put the 5Ps into practice and we deeply believe that the cooperation with the parents will enable us to create an inviting campus culture, thus enhancing the students’ potentials.
